Reviews

This publication is fantastic. We have read through and i am certain that i will planning to read yet again yet again down the road. You wont feel monotony at at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogs are for concerning when you request me).

Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1912 Excerpt: . course, our policy to encourage the growth of this department of literature among ourselves, without rejecting such contributions from abroad as are suited to our requirements. The story you sent us a few days since (What Happened in My Studio) is unavailable chiefly on account of its length, and it is returned to your address by this mail. Your supposition in regard to the rejection of your own stories is entirely correct. I meant to say, if I did not, this very thing in my letter returning them. I am sure you will not construe anything I have written as evincing any inestimate (sic) of the courtesy which prompted your proposal to send us stories from other authors. Messrs. Harper Brothers desire me to express to you their hearty appreciation of your friendly interest in their behalf. With regard to your new novel, The Best of Husbands, the plot of which has come to hand, Messrs. Harper Brothers regret their inability to use it as a serial in their periodicals, owing to arrangements for other serials made previous to the reception of your announcement. They will, however, be glad to receive, as usual, the early sheets for publication in book form, and will pay therefor the sum of fifty pounds. By the way, our Mr. Fletcher Harper, Sr., is now in London. It may be well for you to confer with him personally with regard to your plan for sending us stories, as it may...
