He is reputed to derive his knowledge by education, but is not the bearer of a diploma, save one in his title. The Abiading squats himself beside the sick man--repeats a number of incantations--tosses strings of beads he has in his hand, as an appeal to the spirit he invokes--rubs the beads alternately on his own body and that of the sick man--cogitates and decides. Sometimes the decision is settled by a little copper palaver beforehand; and as the Egbo law gives to the possessor of its privileges an unlimited power in this respect, it may be imagined what scenes of blood the system creates and fosters. Abia-bok is the title which in this country is given to a doctor of medicine; but the Kalabarese have little faith in drugs, and surgical operations are generally performed by the soft...
